

Cutting out the pieces

1. Fold fabric in half selvedge to selvedge (one rough/uncut edge to another)

2. Find a pre-owned t-shirt that fits well

3. Fold t-shirt in half vertically to find midpoint at neckline. Place this midpoint on the fold of the fabric as shown above

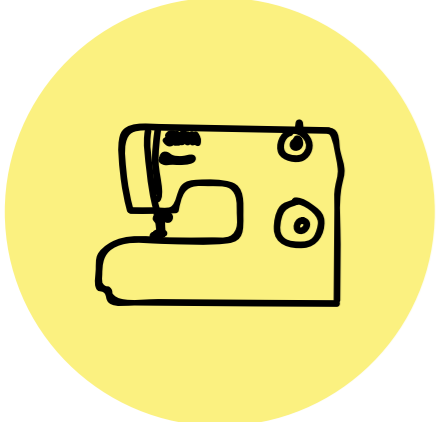

4. Cut a shape similar to the red line using the t-shirt as a guide with 2cm seam allowance.

Note: Curve the base. Extend the sleeve down. Taper in at the waist and then curve under the armhole leaving room.

Use as a template to cut a 2nd.

4. Measure the length of the sleeve hem. Cut 2 rectangles on folded fabric: length = 30cm + sleeve hem length

width = 12cm

Sasha